

Regulatory Entrepreneurship

available on SSRN

forthcoming S. CAL. L. REV. (2017)

Elizabeth Pollman & Jordan M. Barry

“London Mayor Boris Johnson said taxi firm Uber is ‘systematically’ breaking the law, but admitted it would be ‘nuts’ to ban the app.”

Mark Wallace

@wallaceme

 Follow

Uber's petition against TfL's foolish proposals has hit 100,000 signatures in 24 hours. Consumer activism ftw

action.uber.org/tfl/

2:01 PM - 30 Sep 2015

38

20

Uber fined €1.2m in France as protests continue

San Francisco's Uber has been fined €1.2 million for skirting rules that prevent the startup's drivers from picking up street-hailed trips.

By Asha Barbaschow | January 28, 2016 -- 04:17 GMT (20:17 PST) | Topic: Start-Ups

Josh Mohrer, left, Uber's general manager in New York, at a rally outside City Hall in June.
Bebeto Matthews/Associated Press

METRO

Most Airbnb rentals violate the state's short-term leasing law

By Yoav Gonen and Amber Sutherland

December 2, 2015 | 2:28am

Although most Airbnb short-term rentals in New York City may violate state laws, officials argued renters were simply using the service to supplement their incomes.

Photo: Getty Images

SPORTS

Texas Attorney General Deems Daily Fantasy Sports Illegal

By JOE DRAPE JAN. 19, 2016

 Email

 Share

 Tweet

 Save

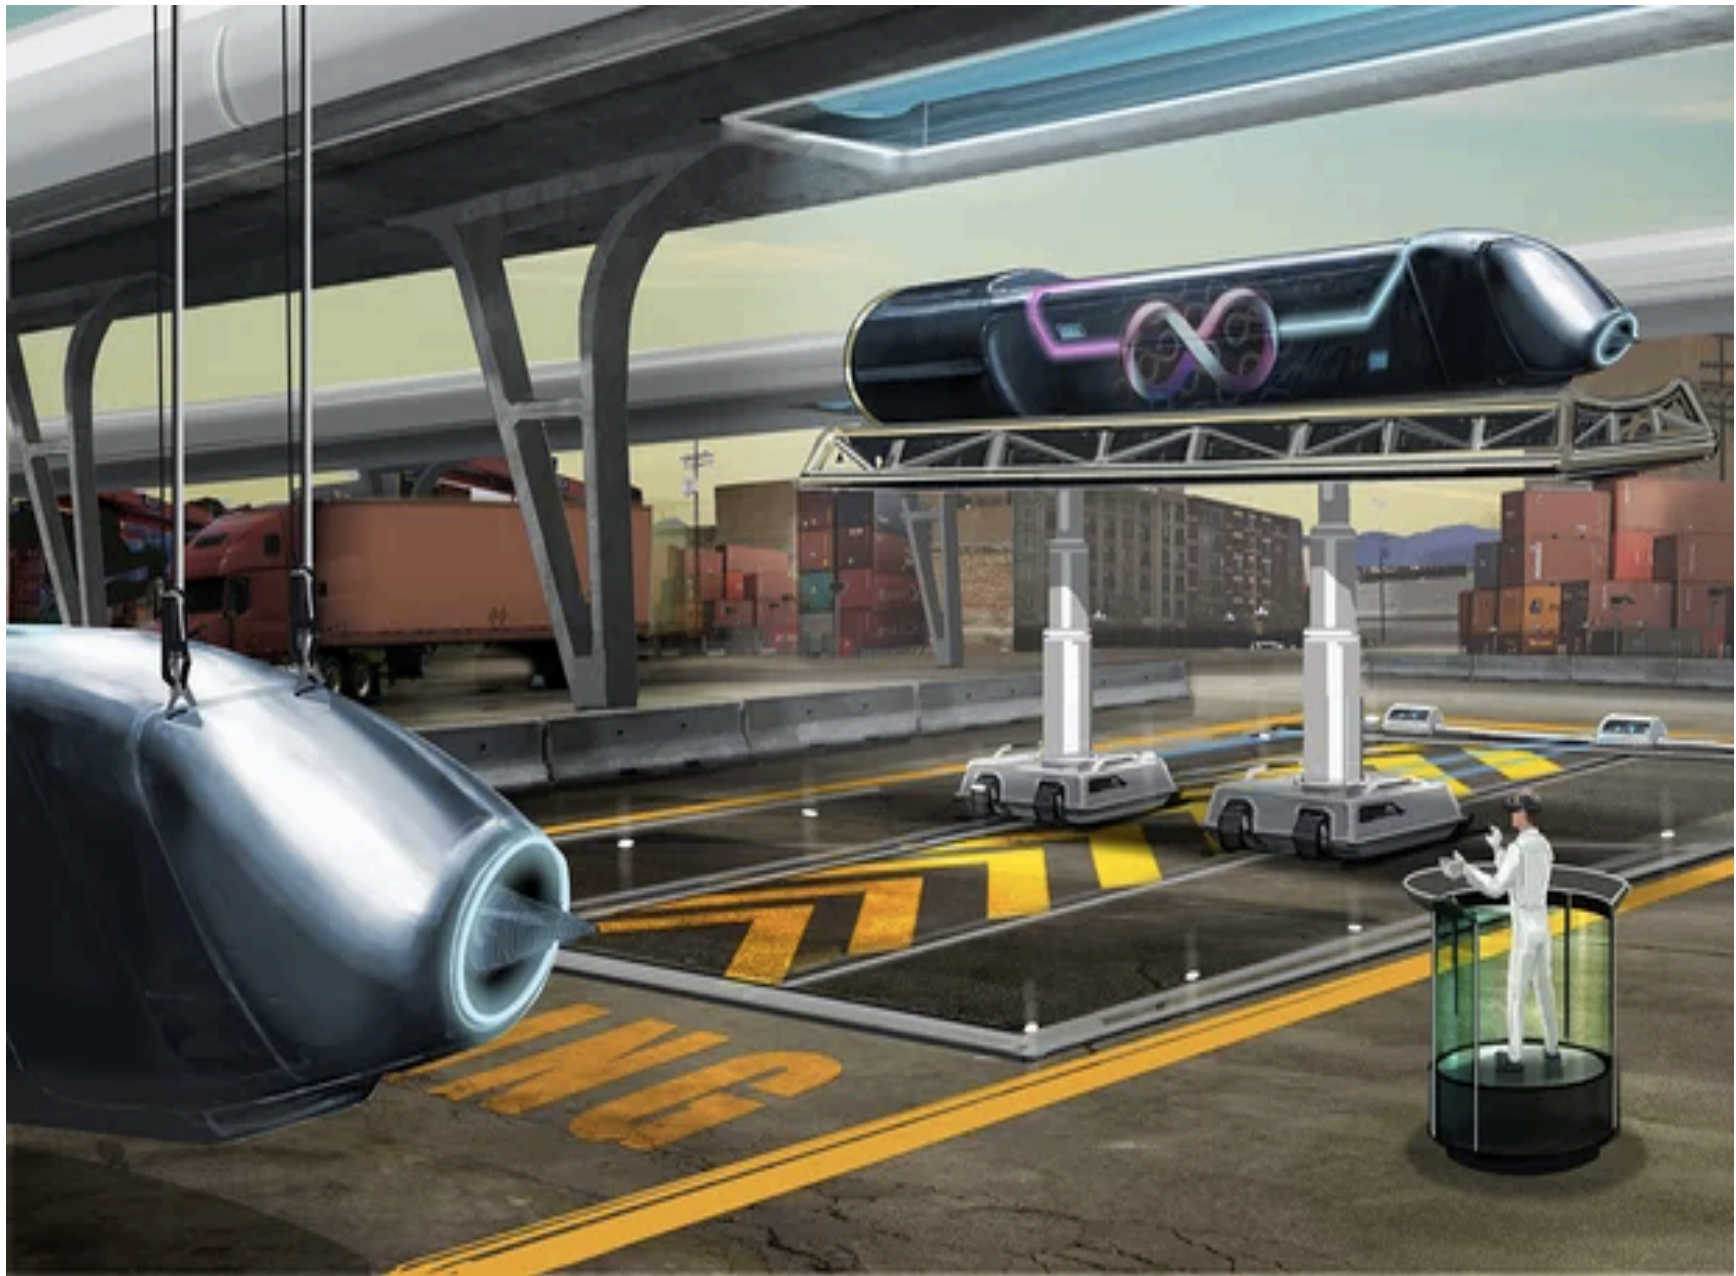

The Texas attorney general said Tuesday that daily fantasy sports constituted illegal gambling under the state's laws, putting that nascent billion-dollar industry at odds with another of its most vital markets.

In his opinion, the attorney general, Ken Paxton, wrote that FanDuel and DraftKings, the two largest daily fantasy sports companies, were clearly taking illegal bets under state law.

Roadmap

- Defining the term
- Describing the activity
- Theorizing the conditions/factors
- Analyzing the impact on law & society

What is
“regulatory entrepreneurship”?

How do regulatory entrepreneurs instigate legal change?

What conditions foster
regulatory entrepreneurship?

What is the future of
regulatory entrepreneurship
and what is its impact on law & society?